

EuroMediterranean Voluntary work as a tool for the human development: The example of the EuroMediterranean voluntary service
 Seminar in Roubaix/France 02nd – 06th December 2009 - Draft programme (can be submitted to changes)

	Wed. 2 nd December Arrivals	Thursday 3 rd December Voluntary work in the Euromediterranean framework	Friday 4 th December Political and strategic dimensions	Saturday 5 th December Cooperative and educational dimensions	Sun. 6 th December Departures
Morning		Official Opening Presentation of the seminar Group Dynamics Euromed IV and Youth in Action	Political dimension of Euromediterranean voluntary work Lectures: Jean-Claude Richez and Lahcen Haddad Strategic dimension of Euromediterranean voluntary work Presentation of experience: Djamel Benia (ADICE)^o	Strategy of cooperation in Euromediterranean voluntary work: How to do it? Input: Team Strategy of cooperation in Euromediterranean voluntary work: Let's take action! Partnership Forum
Afternoon		Exploring Voluntary work Debate-Workshops EVS and Euromediterranean cooperation Lecture: Asuman Goksel Limits and triggers of Euromed cooperation in voluntary work Experts-Workshops Conclusion of the day	Political impact of Euromediterranean Voluntary Work Groups of reflection Good practises of Euromediterranean voluntary work in relation to national realities Exchange of experiences Visit of Roubaix	Presentation of Partnerships/strategies Interactive gallery International Volunteering and non formal education Input: Gilles Baccala Conclusions and follow-up Evaluation

