

The VOICE project explored the photovoice method, a participatory research method combining a creative and accessible tool, photography, with a ready-to-use step-by-step process backed by robust theory. Through its youth and social worker training opportunities and local experiments with young people in each partner country, VOICE demonstrated the great potential of the method for the civic engagement, participation and creative expression of young people.

OUR RESULTS:

Photovoice video-tutorial

Learn the basic steps to apply the photovoice method, as explained by our social and youth work professionals!

Photovoice exhibitions

Check the photovoice exhibition with our activities results!

Photovoice training resources

Learn more about the method and how to apply it, with our guide and additional ready-to-use training material!

Photovoice policy brief

Check our recommendations for education and training institutions, youth and social field organizations and practitioners and policy-makers!

MORE INFO:

office@yes-forum.eu

voice.yes-forum.eu

