ABOUT THE BUILDING

You live on the first floor, suffering from the cold from the floor. The staircase goes down to the basement, which is cold and damp. The basement is full of mold and mildew. You are afraid to even look there. You are afraid that foundations may become bloated and weakened, threatening the entire building!

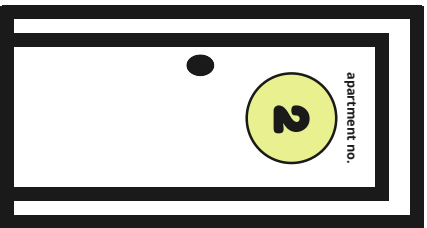

ABOUT YOURSELF

You are the happy parents of a twins who was born six months ago. A new stage of your life has opened, full of challenges, but also fulfillment. You are at your children's every wish, raising them with tenderness, patience and understanding.

ABOUT THE NEIGHBORS

It is not uncommon to hear footsteps on the stairs through your door. The owners of apartment 7 run a private psychological practice in their premises. Most of their clients look decent, but what if some dangerous foe will come? You fear for your children's safety.

ABOUT THE BUILDING

Five years ago, the administration promised the installation of a new ultra-fast network. To this day, it has not come to realization, reportedly the city's conservationist is holding up permits. The available Internet is woefully slow, much too slow for your needs.

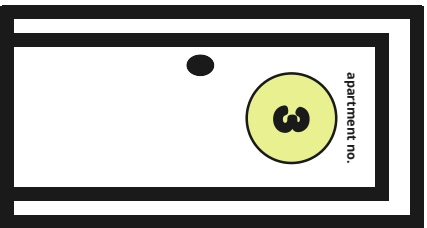

ABOUT YOURSELF

You work in the world of cryptocurrencies. You have installed a smart “miner” system in your apartment, remotely controlled, taking up half the walls and most of the high ceiling. It generate enough income to pay off your investment loan and indulge in other activities.

ABOUT THE NEIGHBORS

An apartment in a townhouse in the center is a dream come true. Unfortunately, your blissful peace is disturbed by the hysterical crying of the child behind the wall from apartment 1. This is repeated many times a day. What are they doing there that the baby howls instead of sleeping peacefully?

ABOUT THE BUILDING

In the entrance hall of this prestigious building are historic stained glass windows. Unfortunately, in lamentable condition! Rust, traces of greasy fingers, smudges from cigarette smoke. It's embarrassing to look at. And yet, specialists in restoration of monuments can bring them back to their former glory and glamour.

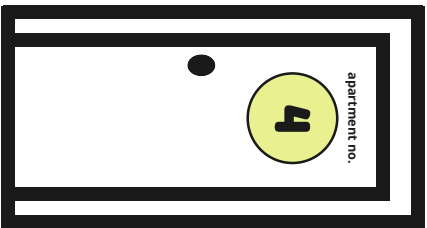

ABOUT YOURSELF

For several years you have been living near the city, and renting an apartment to a wealthy family from India. The arrangement has given you long-awaited financial freedom. You respect your residents and visit them once a year for a traditional Bengali-style dinner.

ABOUT THE NEIGHBORS

Your residents are complaining about frequent power shortages. You suspect that the source of the problem is the tenants in apartment 2, who have installed a whole battery of cryptocurrency miners at their place, which require an absurd amount of energy to operate.

ABOUT THE BUILDING

The townhouse has an inner garden, unfortunately neglected and useless. The ground is covered with concrete blocks that nobody needs, a trace of the former division into mini-plots that nobody cultivates anymore. A major renovation of the garden will bring it back to the residents.

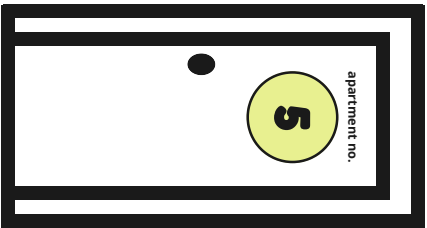

ABOUT YOURSELF

You lead a healthy lifestyle and are aware of the problems of the modern world. You do not own a car by choice, and go everywhere on bicycles, regardless of the season and weather. You also hobbyistically engage in civic budgeting to support bicycle infrastructure.

ABOUT THE NEIGHBORS

Your comfort is disturbed by the smell of frying oil with curry and turmeric, penetrating through the cracks in the doors and walls. You know that they are coming from apartment 3, where the friendly residents from India, unfortunately, fry some aromatic dishes every day.

ABOUT THE BUILDING

The front wall of the building is leaning away. If you look closely, you can see it with the naked eye from the street. The building inspection from 8 years ago states "first-degree danger," but nothing has been done to date. The matter is serious, other minor repairs can wait.

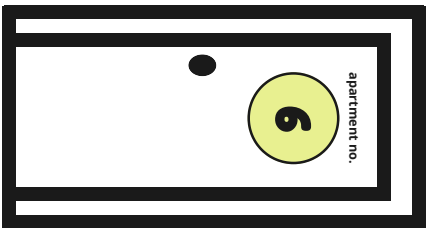

ABOUT YOURSELF

Your family has loved music from generation to generation. You are the only ones in the building who have a piano, old but it is a heirloom in the end. No one in your appartment plays professionally, but everyone tries their hand at it in their spare time, after all, classical music is the key to a good education.

ABOUT THE NEIGHBORS

You are taken off balance by bicycles leaving mud trails on the floor and cyclists dripping with water or snow, persistently carrying their vehicles up the steps. You have already politly inform the neighbors of apartment 4 to stop, but that didn't help much.

ABOUT THE BUILDING

The old townhouse has its charm, but modern solutions are needed. After all, the city already has a hot water system! Connecting to the network will remove old gas stoves, increase safety and aesthetics in bathrooms.

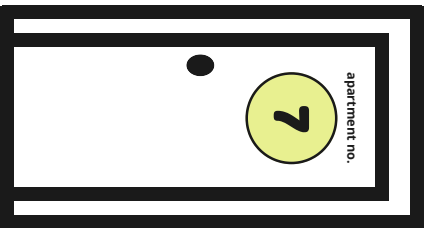

ABOUT YOURSELF

An apartment in the center of a historic city is a wise investment. You renovate it and divide it into cozy, small rooms. You rent it out short-term through the AIRBNB portal, making a profit than repays the loan. Who knows, maybe you'll live here yourself in your old age.

ABOUT THE NEIGHBORS

You take good care of your property, unfortunately you have no influence on the behavior of your neighbors. Terrible music comes from apartment 5 every night. Piano, in the 21st century! Your customers complain and underrate the premises. They say that it is ruining the vibe of the trip for them.

ABOUT THE BUILDING

A home should be a refuge and an oasis. But what can you say about a building where the roof leaks and water soaks into the insulation? The fact that most of the water stays with your place and it no longer dripping on the neighbors below doesn't change anything.

ABOUT YOURSELF

Your spacious attic apartment is divided into two parts, in one you live, in the other you run a certified psychological practice. You do this with all your heart, sometimes even lowering prices for the financially struggling.

ABOUT THE NEIGHBORS

Your peace of mind is disturbed by tourists, noisy, insolent, often drunk or on other drugs. With their behavior they discourage your customers. Unfortunately, the owners of apartment 6 don't give a damn about your comments and continue to rent their premises to foreign party-goers.
