TRAININGS & Other EU Projects (trainer, workshop leader, coach)

From 2004 I have regularly participated in international youth trainings as a participant. The aim of these trainings has been to develop communication, co-operation and self-knowledge skills. First I became a trainer assistant in 2006 and from 2008 I work as a junior and head trainer on various international trainings.

Since 2008 I am writing and running international youth projects focusing on creativity, inclusion, volunteering and social participation. I started my social enterprise called, 'ReCreativity' in 2013 (www.recreativity.net), here we are running workshops, trainings and exchange programs on local and international level for youth. Through this I am cooperating with European NGOs, schools, institutions and for profit companies as well.
