Project Information

We want to consider the concepts of having less opportunities and involving the young people with fewer opportunities through this project. We want to provide more visibility to young people with fewer opportunities, actively in the process. We will also consider the challenges of working with the young people with fewer opportunities. We will mention about these challenges and the ways to include them.

Through this training course, we plan to consider the topics of involving the young people with fewer opportunities, informing the organizations in EVS, recognition of the concept of young people with fewer opportunities, keypoints in the developing projects for the young people with fewer opportunities, volunteering and active citizenship.

The project is planned as a training course and will take place between 5-12 February 2016 7 nights and 8 days. We are going to have 30 participants and 3 trainers and 2 support staff from. The participants will be 1 young person with fewer opportunities and youth workers as support from each country.

Objectives of the project:

- To increase the participation of young people with fewer opportunities in EVS projects.
- To consider and bring solutions to possible problems occur during the inclusion of young people with fewer opportunities.
- To develop new strategies to participate more efficiently in an EVS project.
- To provide the visibility of EVS in local.
- To promote tolerance among the young people in order to ensure social harmony in EU and to show EVS is a path of solidarity.
- To provide the training to the young people so they would be able to write their own EVS projects, able to host or coordinator.
- To consider the responsibilities of sending, host and coordinating organizations.
- To encourage young people to volunteering and active citizenship.

As the result of the project, the participants will have experience in the topics of EVS, Volunteering, Inclusion of disadvantaged people. They will benefit from these experiences in their future EVS projects. The visibility of Erasmus+ Youth Programme and EVS will increase through the activities and events which will be held by the participants in their locals. Furthermore, the participants will work together with our organization to make an influence in their locals, national and international areas.

Participants Profile & Language

Age : No age Limit for participants

Every organization will send 2 participants (1 young people with fewer opportunities and 1 youth worker who is working with young people with fewer opportunities.).

Information About City

Muş (alternative spelling: Mush) is the provincial capital of Muş Province in Turkey. Population of the municipality of Muş: 64,088 (1997 census).

The town dates back to the 6th century AD, and now it shelters the remains of a couple of citadels and the Aslanhane Caravanserai. It is considered one of the early centers of the Armenian civilization and housed ancient Armenian churches until the 1960s. There are also mosques from the Seljuk period, like the Alaeddin Pasa, Hacı Seref and Ulu Mosques. Mus had been under the reign of Urartu, Median, Persian, Armenian, Byzantine, civilizations.

The area of Muş has several ruined castles. Under the rule of the medieval Armenian dynasties monasteries and churches were built in localities near Mush such as the Arakelots Monastery, Surp Marineh Church, Mush, Surb Karapet Monastery most of which are now ruins.

Under the rule of the Muslim dynasties, other type of buildings were built as well. There are mosques from the Ottoman and pre-Ottoman period which show influences of Seljuk architecture. Mosques like the Alaeddin Bey (18th century), Hacı Seref (17th century), and Ulu Mosque (14th century). Caravanserais like the "Yıldızlı Han" (13th century) destroyed in 1916, the now almost completely ruined "Arslanlı Han" and also bathhouse and fountain of Alaeddin Bey and tombs of Muslim saints.
