

Who we are...

Ankara Social Sciences University is a city university in the capital of Turkey. It is an urban university fused with the texture and historical atmosphere of the city. Set in Ulus, near the first prime ministry premises of the Turkish Republic, our university neighbours the six century old Haji Bayram Wali Mosque, historical Roman baths and the Temple of Augustus dating back to 20 BC. Being in the centre of this historical triangle is an added feature to our university's unique perspective. The natural laboratory of social sciences is society. With the impact of the dynamic structure of the city, Ankara Social Sciences University aims at analysing social sciences through academic research and positive interaction with society at large. Ankara Social Sciences University is an international institution with an academic staff experienced in more than ten different countries. We value Turkey's geopolitics and mission, cherish its cultural and historical heritage, conduct research on international issues, and aim at contributing to universal peace and order. ASBU offers education in five different institutes, including Social Sciences, Western Studies, Eastern and African Studies, Haji Bayram Wali Islamic Researches, and Turkish World Studies, as well as the faculties of Religious Sciences, Law, Political Sciences, Social Sciences and Humanities, and Foreign Languages. The mission of Ankara Social Sciences University is to provide university students and teaching staff International experience in training and research, to help incoming foreign students and scientists integrate with the university, take maximum advantage of programs and projects, and to contribute to the development of the region. The vision of Ankara Social Sciences University is to provide information relating to the worlds best opportunities in order to ensure the university's effective communication with National and International communities. THEME's of the TC Project

We can see change and development are rapidly flowing even while living in the first quarter of the century. It is getting important the young to have the skills needed in the 21st century for designing their own future to be sources for that instead of staying in a remote audience. Problem solving, cooperative work, critical thinking, effective communication, creativity skills, are basic skills expected from the youth of this century.

We intend the young to be individuals who can observe the problems and needs in the areas of environment, which can generate ideas, can pass them into practice and who can take risks, are not afraid of failure.

In this context the main goal of our "Creative Young Entrepreneurs" Project is to discover their hidden creavities and entrepreneurial skills in order to increase the employability of the young and youth workers

The project is planned as 7 days except journey between May, 13-20.2017, and it will be carried with 9 countries as Portugal, Italy, Spain, United Kingdom, Lithuania, Poland, Slovakia, Latvia and Turkey, in Ankara. While planning participant profile, age and gender balance will be taken into considiration.

"Role studies, simulations, workshops, site visits, measurement and assessment, written and oral feedback, cultural evenings, outdoor activities and interactive presentations" which have been harmonized by the creativity and entrepreneurship will be used in the training practices which will be held.

Description of Projects
