

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN

Creative tools for communication and connection
31 October-6 November 2017., Hollókő, Hungary

In our everyday communication, at home and at work, we have a different impact with different people. How would your working performance benefit if you could create the impact you aim for? What if you start communicating in a more effective, more appealing manner while having the capacity to create better connection with others?

OUR TRAINING APPROACH

We believe that everything starts with awareness. Therefore in this training course we create the space to connect with yourself and others. To explore the difference between all layers of communication with the support of input and tools coming from theatre, different body consciousness and movement techniques, dance, embodied coaching and more. And of course all this you can also implement in your work back home.

We give plenty of time to reflect:

WITH THE TRAINERS,

IN SMALL GROUPS,

WITH YOURSELF OR

WITH PEERS.

This ensures a strong learning experience which you can form according to your personal goals, and ensure adaption.

DURING 7 DAYS WE WANT TO GIVE YOU THE SPACE TO EXPLORE THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS

- 1 What are my communication patterns?
- 2 How do they limit or support me in my interactions?
- 3 How to maintain, create and expand connection with others?
- 4 Which tools can support me?
- 5 What is the relationship between emotional state and my body?
- 6 How can I use it for my own advantage?
- 7 How to increase my flexibility, creativity and playfulness?
- 8 How to develop meaningful cooperation in an international working context?

OUTCOMES

The training will allow you to develop your own skillset or toolkit, with different inputs, approaches and exercises, so that you:

- Become more aware of your own communication at all levels: non-verbal, vocal and verbal;
- Discover new possibilities of movement to support your communication;
- Improve your capacity for creating connection with others and gain their willing cooperation;
- Develop a more persuasive and impactful communication
- Optimize the use of your body as a tool to create an emotional impact on others
- Enhance your emotional mastery – improving the management of your emotions throughout the day, especially when dealing with unexpected situations
- Enhance your performance as a team member in an intercultural and international group
- Diversify your working approach

PROGRAM

The Difference Between consists of 7 working days, with 8 to 10 daily working hours consisting of input, practice and reflection.

The program itself is a build-up or a day-by-day setup where each day is developed upon the basis created the previous day. Like Lego bricks that come together to form a solid structure.

For this we will use theoretical inputs coming from communication theories, coaching and NLP; exercises coming theatre (forum theatre, improvisational theatre, method acting), dance (contemporary, contact, contact impro), stage/multidisciplinary artistic performance, body consciousness and movement techniques, embodied coaching.

THE JOURNEY OF THE TRAINING COURSE WILL START FROM OBSERVING REALITY AND WILL GROW INTO CO-CREATION WITH OTHERS:

Day 1 OBSERVATION

Setting the ground of the training and approaching observation as starting point for improving communication.

The first inputs on communication and observation will be provided together with exercises for awareness.

Day 2 PERSONAL AWARENESS

Observing myself and my patterns of communication, while realizing what can be the impact on others.

This will be done through a combination of theories on communication and communication styles along with exercises coming from dance and other movement and body consciousness techniques.

Day 3 CONNECTION

Creating connection with others at different levels (non-verbal, vocal and verbal), developing trust in relationships.

Theater, dance and NLP will be the working frame for the day.

Day 4 IMPACT

Using body posture, voice and words to create a specific, planned impact.

Acknowledging the relationship between emotional states and body and how to use it with the support of embodied coaching.

Discovering how flexibility, cooperation and playfulness are interconnected through the frame of improvisational theater.

Day 5 & 6 MODELING

Creating a learning community fitting to your goals and needs, in another venue where Nature is a prime element.

It will be based upon the learning experience coming from the combination of the input of the training plus the one coming from your own working background.

Day 7 FINAL STEPS

Time for reflecting upon the whole experience of the training with a special focus on the modeling part.

Evaluating and closing the training course together.

LANGUAGE

the training is given in simple and easy-to-understand English.
