

COMETS

Training course on the
ETS Competence Model for Trainers

16-22.02.2020, in Dunboyne, Ireland

Designing Educational Programmes

COMETS is a course designed for experienced trainers.

Through self-directed learning, it provides a space to self-assess one's competences, and to come together to reflect upon, discuss and develop further on different competence areas of the ETS competence model.

COMETS as such is rather a learning experience, where reflection and awareness play a big role.

The intentions of this COMETS course are to:

- ❖ To raise awareness on your personal and professional patterns when designing educational programme.
- ❖ To reflect educational programmes design concepts from different perspectives
- ❖ To understand the complexities of designing educational programmes
- ❖ To explore ways to stimulate, support and empower groups through inspiring educational programmes
- ❖ To explore the roles and responsibilities of trainers regarding the impact of educational programme.
- ❖ To explore how the design of educational programmes is influenced by the principles and values of Non Formal Learning.

This edition of COMETS will build on the six competences of the 'Designing Educational Programmes' competence area.

More information on the course:

<http://trainings.salto-youth.net/8362>

Deadline to apply:

16 November 2019

A learning experience for experienced trainers based on the Competence Model for Trainers Working at International Level - <https://bit.ly/2KRYE80>

Meet the trainers:

Peter Hofmann Deirdre Quinlan

Organised by:

Léargas, Irish National Agency for Erasmus+ together with SALTO T&C RC. With the support of Erasmus+ Youth in Action National Agencies MOVIT and JUGEND für Europa.

More questions?

Please contact Carmel Walsh cwalsh@leargas.ie or Blanka Thees blanka@salto-youth.net