Project's ummary

Our past training sessions, namely "To gather and Together" and "The Leader Within," have provided youth workers with valuable insights into group dynamics and leadership abilities. As we concluded these trainings, a crucial question arose: how can we effectively apply these skills and knowledge in a facilitator capacity? Through ongoing assessment of requirements, we recognized additional training needs. In response, we developed the "Train the Trainer" Training Course, a comprehensive program aimed at equipping youth workers with the tools to become effective trainers themselves.

Objectives

1. Facilitate self-assessment and self-knowledge among participants, promoting understanding of strengths and areas for growth.
2. Enhance comprehension of group dynamics, enabling effective navigation and contribution within team settings.
3. Develop participants' public speaking abilities to foster confident and persuasive communication.
4. Familiarize participants with VAKOG (Visual, Auditory, Kinesthetic, Olfactory, and Gustatory) learning styles for tailored and inclusive interactions.
5. Emphasize co-creating meaningful interactions, cultivating a collaborative and impactful exchange environment.
