

WHO WE ARE?

Our host is Crveni krst Krusevac, a humanitarian, independent and voluntary organization formed in Krusevac in 1876, as a local organization in Serbia, and a part of network of Red Cross of Serbia, as the only national society within the Republic of Serbia. Our local organization of Red Cross has 1286 members, more than 500 volunteers (most of them are youth), as well as 4 full time working professionals in the secretariat.

The Red Cross is one of the oldest and most massive organizations in the world. The high level of support and credibility that the Red Cross has is a consequence not only of the recognition of our humanitarian mission, but also of the high level of integrity, objectivity and professionalism of employees and volunteers. The Red Cross helps all people in need, regardless of any differences between them. We are part of a great world movement and participate in providing assistance to all who are affected by a disaster - natural or environmental, war or individual life crisis. We assist vulnerable people with the aim of getting them out of the crisis as soon as possible and returning to normal life.

In the Red Cross of Krusevac, youth can also attend various programs of non-formal education, learn about Erasmus Plus programs, international participation and European values. One of our main goals is to guarantee creative and quality time for youth to spend, by projects in the following themes: non-formal education and training, creative workshops, internationalyouth projects, voluntary work, etc.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

Project Title:

Media and Information Literacy for Active Digital European Citizens

Project Acronym:

MIL 4 ADEC

Media and information literacy is important because it empowers individuals to critically evaluate and understand the media they consume, as well as to communicate effectively and ethically in a digital world. It helps individuals to distinguish between credible and unreliable sources, to understand the role of media in shaping public opinion, and to use media and information technologies responsibly. In today's world, where access to information is easier than ever, media and information literacy is essential for active and informed participation in democratic societies.

Motivated by this context and reality, this project will contribute in redirecting the use of MIL,ICT and SM in a way that is collaborative and innovative, produces multiple learning outcomes and develops new skills, essential in the future employability skill set of the youth.

Through raising our own awareness and improving our skills as youth workers, we can make stronger impact and have more positive influence on youth, within our communities and on a broader international level, utilizing the Erasmus+ framework.

GOALS?

The main aim of the project is to empower youth workers with the skills and knowledge they need to engage with media in a meaningful and informed way, and to use media as a tool for personal and professional growth and development of their respective communities and youth groups they engage.

During this training-course, participants will:

- · develop critical thinking skills to evaluate the credibility and reliability of informtion sources.
- · understand how media and information technologies work and how they shape communication and society.
- recognize the role of media and information in shaping public opinion and shaping political and social systems.
- explore civic participation from participants own experiences, resources and opportunities available to address issues of concern through democratic, civil and civic engagement.
- · develop, improve and reinforce the digital skills of the youth workers and how to use them.
- · understand the ethical and legal issues related to the use of media and information.
- promote the active and responsible use of media and information in various contexts, such as education, work, and civic engagement.
- encourage the development of media and information literacy skills among different groups, including marginalized and disadvantaged communities.
- develop the ability to effectively access, use and create media and information for personal and professional purposes.
- understand the role of media and information in promoting cultural diversity and intercultural dialogue.

This gorgeous mountain of Kopaonik is extremely suitable for this kind of projects, because it is pure nature, suitable for hikers, climbers and recreational athletes who enjoy climbing the mountains and taking walks along the longmeadows filled with natural springs and waterfalls, for mountain cyclists, scouts, as well as for height preparations of professional sports teams.

In coordination with partners, the transport of participants will be organized from Krusevac (which has a train and bus station well connected to all airports in the country: Belgrade, Nis and Kraljevo, as well as to Skopje) to Brzece (our final destination).

GETTING TO KRUSEVAC

BY PLANE:

Numerous foreign airline companies are serving scheduled flights to Belgrade. (Airport Code: BEG) 26 airline companies covered more than 50 destinations. More info about Belgrade airport "Nikola Tesla" you can find on: https://beg.aero/eng

FROM AIRPORT TO BUS STATION:

From Belgrade airport to main train station (train station is nearby bus station) you can come by Mini bus line A1. We recommend this way of transport. It runs every 20 minutes and starting point is just in front of the airport. When you step out, on your left. Ticket price is around 3.5 euros (400 rsd) and you will need around 30 minutes to get train station. You can see the photo of the mini bus ← Another option is local transport, bus number 72. It stops 500 m away from bus station in Zeleni venac (the last stop). Ticket price around 3 euros and you will need around 30-40 minutes from airport to Zeleni venac and 10 minutes walking to bus station.

We suggest using bus from Belgrade to Krusevac.

Several companies are flying to Nis Contantine the Great Airport (Airport code: INI)

If you are traveling to Nis airport, in order to get to Krusevac you can use public transport, there are busses just in front of the airport, on your right waiting for passengers and driving them to main bus station in Nis. Since it is a very small airport, busses are waiting the planes which arrive to Nis and taking them to main bus station. The price of the ticket is around 300 RSD (apporox. 2,5 Euros).

From main bus station in Nis, there are several companies driving to Krusevac:

You have busses from Nis to Krusevac on following hours: 05:30 07:25 08:15 10:30 12:05 13:00 14:30 15:15 16:00 17:00 ...it will take you 1h 30 minutes, or 2 h 30 minutes, depending of a company.

BY TRAIN

Numerous international railways lines link Serbia with all parts of Europe. However, we suggest to use railway transportation only for international transportation. Within Serbia, use railways only if you are adventurer. From Belgrade to Krusevac we suggest to use buses.

BY BUS

There are many bus routes linking Serbia with other European countries. Getting around Serbia by bus is a good option even though bus services vary greatly in speed and comfort. Bus schedule from BelGraDe to KRUsevac (return ticket is around 20 Euros):

BGD	KRU
Dep	Arr
05:45	08:20
07:00	09:45
08:00	10:55
08:15	10:50
09:30	12:25
10:00	12:35

Left column means Departure time from Belgrade and the right column means Arrival time to Krusevac.

In case you will not be coming through Belgrade, two nearest cities to Krusevac in Serbia are Nis and Kraljevo. From there to Krusevac, busses are running very often.

On this website you can find buss timetable for Southeast Europe (please have in mind that this site quite some times is not accurate, so please double check): http://www.balkanviator.com/en/bus

Transport within Krusevac: Most of the things you will need in Krusevac are walkable, taxi is also very affordable (for all city rides around 3 – 3,5 EUR), and we recommend this type of transport from bus station to Hotel Dabi. Please if you have to use taxi, share it with other participants, and ask for the receipt in order to be able to reimburse costs.

IMPORTANT:

When arriving to Belgrade by bus, have in mind that one bus station has arrival terminal and departing terminal. It might happen that taxi drivers offer you transportation to departing terminal, but it is only 50 meters away.

Just ask someone.
