GLOBAL SUSTAINABILITY JOURNEY NARRATIONS

As a seasoned development professional, I have had the privilege of serving in various leadership roles that have equipped me with the skills and expertise necessary to excel as a Postdoctoral Scholar and Fellow with research opportunities in the UAE.

My research experience, including my Ph.D. work on the molecular phylogenetics and biogeography of African plant species, has provided me with a strong foundation in climate change, biodiversity conservation, and sustainable development. I have authored over 20 books on human characters, nature and sustainable development; and played a key role in the UN SDSN Global Action Country Reports, providing policy guidance for achieving the SDGs across 25 countries.

Currently, I have the honour of serving as the Global Facilitator and Council Secretary General of the Global Scholars and Leaders Support Network (GSLSN), a vibrant, cross-border networking community and transformative platform dedicated to fostering sustainability leadership, trans-disciplinary innovation, and multi-stakeholder collaboration. In this role, I facilitated over 200 sessions of global discussions, and over 50 innovative sustainability solutions and proposals, cultivating a community of over 300 renowned professionals and experts from more than 70 countries across 5 continents.

As a key player in the United Nations Sustainable Development Solutions Network (SDSN), I was instrumental in advancing SDGs advocacy, training, conference facilitation, report publication, and research collaborations. I successfully mobilized participation from diverse stakeholders, including government agencies, civil society organizations, media and communication outlets, religious leaders and communities, and businesses and philanthropists.

From these career experiences, I have developed a deep understanding of the complexities and challenges of international development cooperation, particularly as it relates to global south and north countries. My experience working with diverse stakeholders has equipped me with the skills and knowledge necessary to facilitate dialogue, build partnerships, and coordinate projects and programmes.

Work Experience I

Overview - The Global Scholars and Leaders Support Network (GSLSN) is a vibrant, crossborder networking community and transformative platform dedicated to fostering sustainability leadership, trans-disciplinary innovation, and multi-stakeholder collaboration. As the Global Facilitator and Council Secretary General, I have had the privilege of driving this initiative, fueled by my passion for research, global sustainability, writing, and collaborative projects that promote a sustainable planet and healthy living for all.

Experience and Impact – Our Community has an international track record of visibility and professional networking spanning Africa, Europe, Asia, the Americas, and the Middle East, I have facilitated over 150 sessions of global discussions, cultivating a community of over 300 renowned professionals and experts from more than 70 countries.

Key Achievements - In 2024, GSLSN achieved remarkable milestones: 1) Hosted over 150 virtual sessions on Zoom, YouTube, and TikTok, fostering dialogue and knowledge sharing among global scholars and leaders; 2) Reached over 25,000 participants and viewers worldwide, promoting sustainability awareness, education, and engagement; 3) Honoured over 1,000 Sustainability Awardees in six categories, celebrating their innovative contributions to sustainability; and 4) Established a presence in 70 countries across five continents, including Asia, the Americas, Europe, the Middle East, and Africa.

Conclusion - As the Community keeps growing, it extends invitation to like-minded individuals, organizations, and institutions to join the GSLSN, contributing to our shared mission of promoting sustainability, innovation, and global collaboration as it poised to continue making a meaningful impact in the pursuit of a sustainable planet and healthy living for all.

Work Experience II

Overview - The United Nations Sustainable Development Solutions Network (SDSN) is a global initiative that mobilizes research, expertise, and knowledge to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). As a key player in the SDSN network, our team has been instrumental in advancing SDGs advocacy, training, conference facilitation, report publication, and research collaborations.

Success Stories and Impact - Through our tireless efforts, we have successfully mobilized participation from diverse stakeholders, including: 1) Collaborated with government ministries, departments, and agencies to integrate SDGs into national policies and development plans; 2) Partnered with NGOs, community-based organizations, and advocacy groups to amplify SDGs awareness and promote grassroots action; 3) Engaged with media outlets, journalists, and influencers to disseminate SDGs information, promote success stories, and foster public awareness; 4) Worked with faith-based organizations and religious leaders to integrate SDGs into their development initiatives and community programs; and 5) Collaborated with private sector entities, foundations, and philanthropic organizations to leverage resources, expertise, and funding in support of SDGs implementation.

Key Achievements - Our team has achieved remarkable success in: 1) Organized high-level events, campaigns, and initiatives to raise awareness, promote policy changes, and mobilize action on SDGs; 2) Designed and delivered training programs, workshops, and courses to enhance the capacity of stakeholders to implement and achieve SDGs; 3) Hosted and facilitated international conferences, seminars, and workshops to promote dialogue, knowledge sharing, and collaboration on SDGs; and 4) Collated and published reports, briefs, and working papers on SDGs implementation, progress, and best practices, providing valuable insights and recommendations for stakeholders.

Conclusion - My work with the SDSN has been instrumental in promoting SDGs advocacy, training, conference facilitation, report publication, and research collaborations which contributed to the progress on the achievement of the SDGs, fostering a more sustainable, equitable, and prosperous future for all.

Work Experiences III

Overview - The University of Göttingen Department of Forest Tree Breeding and Genetic Studies is a world-renowned institution at the forefront of academic learning and research with a strong focus on advancing the understanding of forest tree diversity, ecology, and evolution. The department has established itself as a hub for innovative research, academic excellence, and international collaboration.

Experience as a Doctoral Research Fellow - As a recipient of the prestigious DAAD ShortTerm Fellowship Award, I had the privilege of joining the Department as a visiting scientist. During my stay, I was immersed in cutting-edge research on forest tree diversity analysis using molecular markers and conservation research. This enriching experience enabled me to: 1) Develop expertise in molecular marker techniques, genetic data analysis, and conservation biology, enhancing my research profile and academic credentials; 2) Engage in stimulating discussions, exchange ideas, and collaborate with distinguished researchers, expanding my professional network and fostering long-term partnerships; 3) Participate in ongoing research projects, contributing to the advancement of knowledge in forest tree genetics, diversity, and conservation, and gaining exposure to novel methodologies and technologies; and 4) Showcase my research outcomes at departmental seminars and international conferences, receiving constructive feedback, and refining my research skills.

Impact and Achievements - Through my experience as a Doctoral Research Fellow at the University of Göttingen, I: 1) Co-authored report and research papers for disseminating research findings and contributing to the scientific community; 2) Fostered partnerships with researchers from diverse backgrounds, facilitating future collaborations, and expanding my professional network; and 3) Developed a robust research profile, demonstrating expertise in forest tree genetics, diversity, and conservation, and positioning myself for future research endeavors.

Conclusion - My experience as has been transformative, providing unparalleled opportunities for research excellence, international collaboration, and academic growth.

Work Experiences IV
