

EVS LEGAMBIENTE PRATO

Legambiente is one of the most important environmental organization in Italy. It was born in 1980 thanks to the first experience of ecological informal that were raised in the middle 70'. With its 115.000 members, +1000 local organizations, +30.000 young students involved in environmental education activities. Legambiente is spread all over Italy. Think Globally, Act Locally: we try to make people understand that it is by making local changes that we can create a better environment for everyone on a global scale. Scientific Environmentalism: every initiative to defence the environment is carried according to scientific data. Every time we say 'no' to something that may be environmentally hazardous, we suggest concrete alternative.

Legambiente Prato, local group was born in the middle 80'. Since then it has outreached many goals. Promotion of healthy life styles, Environmental education, local and international volunteerism, Sustainable development especially connected to the improvement of eco-touristic routes in local green areas are important tasks constantly carried out by our organization.

Legambiente Prato and Erasmus+: Since the european programme: Youth in Action, Legambiente Prato was one of the first local groups in Italy to pursuit projects among the European Volunteering Service (EVS) action. From 2007 until now Legambiente Prato has hosted 34 EVS volunteers from different european countries. We sent more then 10 volunteers in other partner organizations all over Europe. We have a strong and proofed experience in managing all the steps of a EVS project.
