

Armenian-German Journalism school

MISSION STATEMENT

"Association of Young Journalists" NGO was founded in 2011 with the mission of supporting non-formal education in journalism and other social sciences, development of professional skills, career perspective, as well as formation of media and civic society in Armenia. According to our charter aims of the organization are the following:

- to contribute to the development of journalism, civil establishment of public institutions,
- to promote youth education organization, academic and professional activity implementation,
- to contribute to their social activity,
- to organize media studies and scientific research,
- to contribute to the establishment of a democratic system, the media,
- to collaborate with other institutions of civil society to contribute to the public sector development.

Who We Are

About Us

Located in Yerevan, Armenia, "Association of Young Journalists" is promoting non-formal education for Armenian youth and is open for cooperation with organizations from around the World.

Contact Us

Phone: (+374) 96 757 277

Email: ayj.ngo@gmail.com

Primary Contact Person's Name:

Arman Ghazaryan

ASSOCIATION OF YOUNG JOURNALISTS

Apt. 5, 117/1 Z. Qanakertsu str.,
Yerevan, Armenia, 0052

ASSOCIATION OF YOUNG JOURNALISTS

*Non-Governmental Organization
Yerevan, Armenia*

What we have already done!

From the beginning of 2011, "Association of Young Journalists" NGO has continuously organized different trainings, conferences, debates, round tables and other events for youth in a wide variety of topics.

Starting from March 2015 we are organizing "Memories from battle front" in cooperation with Armenian Youth Foundation. We're filming 20 short and 1 long movies about World War II, which are being broadcasted on "Yerkir Media" TV Channel in the frames of the project mentioned above.

We've realized the project "Armenian-German Journalism School" together with the cooperation German "Die Tageszeitung" (taz.de) newspaper, Armenian youth Foundation and Yerevan State University, where 60 journalists from different Armenian universities and regions have got chance to get involved into the project.

The second part of the project took place in Berlin, where 8 journalists have taken part in professional workshops and made publications on special number of "Die Tageszeitung".

Giving a high importance to our professional skills, we organize different kinds of seminars, conferences, which give the youngsters an opportunity to gain practical skills in journalism as well as in educational programs, active citizenship and social involvement.

---

All of the organization's decisions are made as a result of active discussions and open vote!!!

---

From the beginning of its activity The Association is cooperating with the Journalism faculty of Yerevan State University. We're also cooperating with different international organizations in the frames of Erasmus+ project.

What we have already done!

In 2012, with the cooperation of YSU Journalism Faculty we have founded debate club, which is continuing to grow providing young people to debate on the topics of journalism and social sciences.

In 2013, the organization has been involved as an expert in the training course "EYE-World-Video-Hearth" (Youth in Action project) by "International Center for Intercultural Research, Learning and Dialogue" NGO.

In 2014, the NGO realized the conference "I sign" together with the cooperation of Armenian Youth Foundation, where more than 30 journalists got acquainted with the legal and ethical responsibilities of journalism, as well as the basics of media's civil society improvement process.