Other wider objectives	Other wider objectives of the workshops is, to stop the brain drain from rural villages, reduce early school leaving and dropouts by encouraging young people to continue their formal education with an entrepreneurial vision in sight. For those who do not take up the entrepreneurial path, the skills learnt from participating in the workshops will provide useful vocational tools for their future career. The workshops created also aim to encourage University students to return to their rural areas with their newly acquired education and skills. Part of 'widening objectives of the workshops is, furthermore, the awareness of how important foreign language learning is, which unfortunately in rural areas is often neglected, due to lack of opportunities, limited use, etc
