

CoAction Youth Group is a non-formal youth group, formed by a number of young people who aims creating synergy through social, cultural, environmental and artistic actions. The members came together around certain principles: more action, more cooperation and collaboration with sensitivity on environmental issues, entrepreneurship in social areas, and sharing in cultural and artistic activities. The members are also dedicated to make use of their strength and to compensate their imperfection through collective actions. Team spirit and respect are the essential values of the group.

CoAction Youth Group is seeking voluntary activity opportunities which may contribute to social unity and coherence by creating awareness on society and local community. The experience, knowledge and wisdom gained during those activities are beyond any other profit or benefit. The basics of group mentality are: knowing and introducing own culture, embracing universal values, regarding the differences as diversity and richness, and transferring these moral concepts to all layers of society.

The group consists of young people at 15-30 are range, and the members are specifically interested in music, sports, arts, technology, social media, cultural exchange, disadvantaged groups, social inclusion etc. The group is not part of any ethnic, religious, political, commercial group or structure; and is not directly/indirectly connected to any governmental or Non-governmental organization.
