FRAME OF THE PROJECT

The contemporary world is a crossroad of displacement dictated by different needs and desires.

People leave their own country to work or study abroad, because of economic or political problems; migratory movements of ethnic groups are often accompanied by prejudices and episodes of discrimination; citizen and politicians are looking for new ways to deal with migratory phenomena and welcome people of different cultures.

The overall aim of THE SOUTH OF THE NORTH training course is to offer the opportunity to have a intercultural exchange of knowledge and experience about different kind of migrations, to increase awareness and critical thinking about the phenomena.
