Diverse Youth Network builds a connections between people and communities to articulate diversity and versatility, and to inspire joint co-operations and initiatives among youth. Different groups of society share the following core values to generate an increased level of resources, synergies and capacity. Our organization stands against inequality, stigmatization and all means of discrimination. A society becomes more supportive and inclusive when its members and groups cooperate on a voluntary basis to be more effective and efficient.

In a diverse society, nationalities and subcultures, LGBT groups and other vulnerable and minority groups pursue constructive dialogue. Therefore, they support each other and driven by solidarity, they join efforts to collaborate and maintain a common prosperity and peace. This is what creates values and is the basis of personal fulfillment. In an inclusive society, all individuals and groups participate equally in a debating and deciding questions related to them. Diverse youth are the cornerstone of a democratic, livable, colorful and an inclusive society. This is to build bridges between an individual and a group, minority and majority community.

Our organization stands for:

_ to popularize the activity of the Association among the people; _ to use formal and non-formal education methods to stimulate the potential of young people;

_ to provide opportunities for young people to participate in various international and cultural exchanges in the country and abroad for the purpose of their personal and professional development and enrichment; _to support legislative initiatives in the field of science and education by subjecting them to a broad public debate and discussion. Initiatives include addressing economic, social, cultural and educational issues; _ to identify problems on local and national level and putting them under wide public debates aiming their resolution; _to initiate, present and promote examples of active inclusion of young people in socially meaningful activities and partnerships with the state administration, local authorities, universities, schools, and all other types of educational institutions and the non-governmental sector that create an atmosphere of cooperation and cohesiveness.

Key persons

Bálint Rigó is studying at the University of Pécs biology- geography. Parallel with his studies, he started to volunteer in some afterschool projects, mostly with unprivileged and Roma children. He grew up in a small village where most of the population was unprivileged and Roma. He has a significant experience because he comes from the same situation. In his university he started to his own resources about minorities and socially excluded groups, one of the most biggest result is one social interactive board game which gives a possibility to learn and understand better the socially excluded groups. This was published by University of Pécs. The board game's main target are the young student in the highschools and the university student who want to become a teacher. The reason because several young student who want to be a teacher never meet before children who came from socially high excluded economical background or children from different excluded minorities, like Roma in Hungary. His new resource topic about how represent the different cultures themselves in the Eurovision Song Contest for example the different political conflict between countries, which most of the time are based on historical and ethnical backgrounds. His university years he started to work like a volunteer at some organisations with mostly working with minorities and later he did his EVS in this topic in Portugal, Lisbon working for ProAtlantico and Phiren Amenca. In the last some year he took part in several actions and events which main profile was to stand up against the racism and the prejudices. He was an activist at European Initiative Minority Safe Pack which main aim is to support and fight for the rights of the European nationalities and minorities. In the university he won several scholarships for his researches and he had an opportunity to publish his results. In the psat years he came to be the member of the Diverse Youth Network, and he dedicates his work for the minorities' and nationalities' rights.
