Legal Representative & International Coordinator

DUYGU DURAN

Duygu holds a Bachelor's degree from Ankara University Faculty of Law and pursued a Double Major in International Relations at Anadolu University. She further enriched her academic journey by earning a Master's degree in Law from Bologna University Faculty of Law through the Erasmus program. Proficient in Turkish, English, Italian, French, and Spanish, Duygu possesses a versatile linguistic skill set.

Duygu's expertise spans diverse fields, with a primary focus on law, including International Law, Environmental Law, IT Law, and Refugee Law. Complementing her legal proficiency are her competencies in Political Affairs and International Relations, with a specialized understanding of EU-Turkey relations. Her academic background is underpinned by a keen interest in Youth Affairs and Non-Formal Education, reflecting her commitment to holistic and inclusive developmental approaches. In her role as a Legal Representative and International Coordinator at Cultural Arbitration, Duygu plays a pivotal role in bridging legal intricacies with international collaboration. Her proficiency in various legal domains aligns with the organization's mission, contributing to the mediation of cultural conflicts and the promotion of multicultural communications.

Contact Person & National Coordinator

FURKAN NİHAT ÇINAR

Furkan Nihat Çınar holds a Bachelor's degree from Ankara University Faculty of Law and is proficient in Turkish, English, and German. As the Contact Person and National Coordinator at Cultural Arbitration, Furkan assumes a multifaceted role. His duties encompass the planning, development, and overall coordination and implementation supervision of projects undertaken by the organization. This involves the intricate task of fundraising and establishing effective communication with donors and partners to address project-related matters.

Furkan plays a pivotal role in conceptualizing projects, outlining clear goals, objectives, activities, and main stages to ensure their successful execution. Additionally, he takes charge of social media management, leveraging digital platforms to enhance outreach, visibility, and engagement for Cultural Arbitration's initiatives. Furkan's responsibilities extend to facilitation, where he plays a crucial role in guiding and coordinating various aspects of the projects.

Project Manager & International Coordinator

FURKAN DİVRİK

Furkan Divrik, a graduate from Ankara University Faculty of Law, brings a strong academic foundation to his current pursuit of studying Governance Information System. His educational background reflects a combination of legal expertise and a keen interest in the intricacies of information systems and governance. With a proven track record as a capable manager, Furkan's skills extend to effective project management and coordination.

In his role as a Project Manager and Coordinator at Cultural Arbitration, Furkan leverages his diverse skill set to oversee and lead various initiatives. His legal background provides a valuable foundation for navigating complex projects, while his current studies in Governance Information Systems equip him with insights into efficient information management and organizational governance. As a capable manager, Furkan is responsible for coordinating project activities, ensuring smooth implementation, and managing resources effectively.

Cultural Arbitration actively engages in youth work on three distinct levels: local, national, and international, each contributing to the personal development of young individuals. At the local level, our organization conducts diverse activities, including language-speaking clubs, gender and anti-discrimination workshops, technology skills and creative design development workshops, and active volunteering initiatives. These endeavors aim to foster an understanding of cultural diversity among youth. A primary focus is on educating young people about their rights, with an emphasis on human rights, refugee law, and fundamental rights.

On a national scale, Cultural Arbitration prioritizes youth rights and addresses pertinent issues. The team, having previously served voluntarily in the Ankara Sexual Harassment Support Unit, extends its expertise to young people by offering free legal assistance and continuing projects beyond the unit's scope. To facilitate the integration of young individuals with Europe, the organization frequently organizes seminars—both online and face-to-face—explaining Erasmus opportunities and application procedures.

Actively participating in various local organizations, Cultural Arbitration encourages young people to engage in voluntary activities, nurturing empathy skills. The organization organizes solution-oriented activities that utilize theater and dance methods, aiming to bring out the creativity within young hearts. Recognizing the importance of understanding the needs of the youth, the team frequently holds meetings with young people to evaluate challenges and address issues collectively. Cultural Arbitration is committed to creating a positive impact on the personal and societal development of young individuals through its multifaceted youth work initiatives.
