

EVELINA KVARTUNAITE

BELONGING AND INCLUSION EXPERT, FACILITATOR &
EDUCATION DESIGNER

PROFILE

I'm a certified education designer, an expert diversity, equity and inclusion coach, facilitator, philanthropist, an advocate for lifelong learning, a producer, photographer, and graphic artist amongst other things a community manager of arts communities in Amsterdam and have experience of 20 years.

I'm passionate about multi-disciplinary learning and enabling transformative growth also focusing on neurodiversity and human brain research that helps promote awareness and understanding of different learning styles and abilities.

My focus is on designing adult education programmes for transformative change and life-long learning. My time as a humanitarian aid worker proved to me how much change we are able to achieve when we are able to come together as a group of individuals working cohesively and purposely.

My method is to blend individual needs with group needs. How to navigate the complexity of our relationships with each other and embrace individual talents and come together as a team.
