In the past 25 years I've written and implemented a number of approximately 70 different projects for the association in the fields of nonformal education, intercultural learning and youth mobility, specifically ranging from EVS (now ESC) projects, youth exchanges and training courses. I am also in charge for the management of the association's international partnerships. The most relevants right now are the "Generation Europe - The Academy" one, on youth participation and youth work and the "Cities of Learning" Network for the recognition of learning through digital badges. Associazione Interculturale NUR, Via dei Colombi 1, 09126, Cagliari, Italy Name and address of employer Type of business or sector NGO active in the social and education fields. Since 1997 Dates Trainer, Facilitator, Project manager, Learning content designer, Webmaster and Communication Occupation or position held manager Through the years I've played different roles connected with education. My most relevant tasks have Main activities and responsibilities been tightly linked to EVS (and now ESC) having written and managed over 18 hosting projects, trained over 1000 volunteers, NGO EVS staff and mentors (with 35+ training courses delivered including pre departure, on arrival, mid term evaluation, post project final evaluation, mentoring, EVS management, Contact Making Seminars) for the Italian National Agency for Erasmus+, for SALTO centres and other NA's since 2003. Since 2020 I have been a member of the European Academy on Youth Work Advisory Group representing the IYWT Guild. During the COVID-19 crisis, I have been called by the Italian NA to design, together with 4 more colleagues, the format of the first online training cycle for the ESC volunteers and tested the first (and 4 more after that) TEC course delivered digitally in April 2020. In the specific field of EU financed volunteering programs I have also been involved as an NGO accreditor in MEDA countries. More generally in the field of youth work, mobility and NFE I often deliver training courses aimed at NGO staff, youth workers and other trainers on topics ranging from e-learning courses management to youth leadership development, from digital citizenship and participation to photographic communication. Over the years, I have specialized in developing projects, courses, and tools to facilitate the use of digital tools in the learning process and from the point of view of digital literacy.
